BRITISH STANDARDS IN WAR TIME

ACTIVITIES OF THE BRITISH STANDARDS INSTITUTION

Some months before the outbreak of war the British Standards Institution, the recognised centre for the promulgation of all national British Standards, offered His Majesty's Government the services of the Institution, as a complete unit, in the national emergency. This offer, which was sent to the Board of Trade through whom the Institution receives its Government grant, was most cordially received and the various Departments of State were duly informed of the proposal.

On the outbreak of war the British Standards Institution realised that its peace-time procedure was inadequate to deal effectively with the demands imposed by the changed conditions, and especially by the need for rapid action. A number of small executive committees were therefore set up for the various sections of its work, these being made fully responsible for the preparation of any War Emergency Specifications the Institution might be called upon to undertake. Under this emergency procedure the executive committees were given authority to restrict the usual wide consultation of industry to those interests directly concerned, and the reduction of the time usually given for comment on draft standards. It is, of course, understood that any British Standards issued under war-time procedure will come under review directly peace comes again.

Departmental Employment of the Institution

Government Departments are employing the British Standards Institution machinery for the preparation, co-ordination and promulgation of War Emergency Specifications to meet their several requirements, that policy being adopted because of the great experience of the Institution in this field and because it provides a most effective liaison between them and almost all branches of British industry.

The British Standards Institution is invited to send a representative to appropriate meetings of the Materials Committee of the Production Executive, which is representative of all Government Departments, the Central Priority Department acting as the liaison between that Committee and the Institution. This has brought the Institution in close contact with the increasing number of Departments working to specifications, and is thereby bringing about a considerable measure of co-ordination in their preparation and issue.

Value of the Institution's Work

As an indication of the value of the work of the British Standards Institution, it may be mentioned that the first issue of the War Emergency Specifications for Tins and Cans for food products and other commodities is estimated to have saved 40,000 tons of steel in the first year. The British Standards, specifically mentioned in the Government Order, have been issued with the approval of the Minister of Supply following the recommendations of the Economy Committees set up by the Materials Committee.

The British Standards Institution, in collaboration with the appropriate branches of industry, has been entrusted with the task of making recommendations in the first instance to the above Economy Committees in connection with tinplate containers. The work is being extended to cover packaging generally and has involved already the formation of more than 80 committees.

A further example of the employment of the Institution by the Ministry in effecting saving of material is the issue of a War Emergency Specification for Bolts and Nuts with smaller heads, which, it is estimated, will save many thousands of tons of steel a year.

Another example of the work of the British Standards Institution is the rationalisation of alloy and special steels. A committee under the chairmanship of Dr. W. H. Hatfield, F.R.S., has for some time past been engaged on an investigation of this complex matter and has drawn up a confidential report which includes suggestions for a co-ordinated series of steels. Such sections of the report as can be made available to the engineering public will shortly be issued by the Institution, which will at the same time issue, as complementary to the above, War Emergency British Standards covering the steels recommended in the report. The Committee has most kindly placed itself at the service of the Institution and is acting as its adviser in all this important work.

Building, A.R.P., and other War Emergency Standards

As a result of a conference held with the Director of Standardisation, the new Ministry of Works and Buildings is using the British Standards Institution as the medium for the promulgation, under its authority, of a series of War Emergency British Standards for use at the present time. Similar action will probably be taken in respect of reconstruction work.

At the request of the Ministry of Home Security a special series of specifications (about 50 in number at present) has been issued covering many aspects of A.R.P. work.

In connection with exemption from the Purchase Tax the British Standards Institution has provided H.M. Government with definitions which give the dividing line between babies', children's, and adults' clothing and made recommendations for protective boots designed for use by miners, quarrymen or moulders. Recommendations have also been made in connection with the Limitation of Supplies Order.

The experience of the Institution is also being drawn upon in several directions through the good offices of the Central Priority Department, where the preparation and issue of British Standards may not necessarily follow.

Besides all this the Institution, in response to direct requests from industry, has prepared and issued a number of War Emergency Specifications to meet the special conditions resulting from the restriction in the supply of materials, and the demands for new and revised standards to meet these contingencies are increasing.

Collaboration with the Dominions and Argentina

This war work has in no way prevented the Institution from maintaining its usual close relationship with the Dominions standardising bodies, which have been kept in close touch with these developments.

Moreover, the British Standards Institution Committee in the Argentine Republic, which is working in close collaboration with the IRAM, the Argentine national standards organisation, is receiving increased recognition as its work is seen to be of real value to British export trade. British engineers and traders in Argentina are to a greater degree giving practical support to the work of the Committee, and manufacturers in Great Britain have, by a far-sighted policy of financial support, made that work possible. British Standards, through the work of this Committee, are receiving the same consideration at the hands of the IRAM in the drawing-up of Argentine standard specifications as the standards of other nations.

The British Standards Institution, with the help of the British Council and of industry, is also engaged in compiling a number of technical handbooks dealing with British industrial practice. The books are to be published in Spanish and Turkish and should do much to familiarise engineers and students in Turkey and the Spanish-speaking countries with British methods.

It is hoped that this brief review of the activities of the British Standards Institution will be sufficient to show that the close contact maintained with the Departments of State and with industry is enabling the British Standards Institution to contribute in substantial measure to the national war effort.

Announcements

NOTE: Copies of all Orders referred to in the "Board of Trade Journal" can be purchased from H.M. Stationery Office, or through any bookseller.

WAR DAMAGE INSURANCE SCHEMES

DATES OF OPERATION

The Board of Trade have made the War Damage (Business Scheme) Order, 1941, and the War Damage (Private Chattels) Order, 1941 (S.R. & O. 1941, Nos. 450 and 451, price 4d. and 1d., respectively), under Part II of the War Damage Act, 1941. The business insurance scheme (including the special business scheme for farmers) comes into force to-day, 17 April, and the private chattels scheme will come into force on 1 May. The Orders prescribe the various forms of policies to be issued under the schemes and the conditions and limitations attaching thereto. On and after the dates mentioned application for insurance may be made to any of the principal Fire Insurance Companies or to Lloyd's as agents of the Board of Trade, and one month's grace is allowed in the case of each scheme in which to apply for insurance. Copies of a memorandum explaining the schemes (B.S. 4) can be obtained on application to any of the Board's agents.

COMMODITY INSURANCE SCHEME

By the War Risks (Commodity Insurance) (No. 2) Order, 1941 (S.R. & O. 1941, No. 491, price 3d.) made by the Board of Trade under Part II of the War Risks Insurance Act, 1939, practically all the goods comprised in the War Risks Insurance (General Exceptions) Order, 1940 (see the "Board of Trade Journal" of 7 March 1940, page 270), which had previously been uninsurable under the commodity insurance scheme, become voluntarily insurable under that scheme from 17 April. Growing crops, livestock and certain agricultural products as well as goods supplied under hire purchase agreements remain uninsurable under the commodity insurance scheme and therefore become insurable under the business scheme, referred to above.

WAR RISKS INSURANCE

TOBACCO STOCKS

There appears to have been some doubt about the necessary arrangements for insuring stocks of manufactured tobacco against war damage under the War Risks Insurance Act. It is pointed out that there is no provision in law for payment of drawback on duty-paid manufactured tobacco damaged at factories or retail premises or in transit as a result of enemy action. Stockholders should therefore cover all such duty-paid stocks of manufactured tobacco at their full duty-paid value. This governing condition applies also to small traders carrying stocks of less than £1,000 who are not compelled to insure under the Act, but may do so voluntarily, and they should appreciate that the amount they have at risk is the full duty paid value of the stock.

BRITISH CLAIMS AGAINST ENEMY SHIPS

Persons having claims against enemy ships, shipowners or charterers (except claims for the release of British-owned cargoes on German ships which are still in neutral ports) are reminded that under the Cargoes and Claims (Information) Order (see the "Board of Trade Journal" of 5 September 1940, page 150) they are required to report particulars to the Secretary, Enemy Shipping Claims Committee, Norman House, Strand, London, W.C.2. Persons not sending the required particulars are liable to heavy penalties under the Defence Regulations.

The term "enemy" for the purposes of the Order now includes Roumania and Bulgaria.

The President of the Board of Trade has appointed Mr. Raymond Evershed, K.C., Chairman of the Central Price Regulation Committee, to be a member of the Industrial and Export Council.

Questions of costs and prices with which the Central Price Regulation Committee is concerned, it is pointed out, are closely connected with the Industrial and Export Council's work under the concentration of production plan.

Outer covers of the type used on mechanically propelled vehicles and of 6 inches or more nominal section will continue to require a licence to be exported to all destinations. Other types of tyres and all inner tubes will require licences to be exported to certain specified destinations only.

The prohibition in respect of "parts and accessories" only of certain items of military equipment, but not of these items themselves, has been relaxed and licences, in future, will only be required in respect of exportations of certain specified parts of canvas and webbing equipment, respectively.

The Board of Trade have made the Export of Goods (Control) (No. 15) Order, 1941 (S.R. & O. 1941, No. 493, price 1d.) prohibiting the export from the United Kingdom of all goods which are the subject of a contract of insurance effected with an enemy within the meaning of the Trading with the Enemy Act, 1939. The Order comes into force on 25 April 1941.

Traders and others are reminded that as from that date Customs pre-entries for exports to destinations outside the British Empire of consignments for which export licences are not required, must bear either (1) a statement that the British exporter is himself insuring the consignment with insurers carrying on business in the United Kingdom, or (2) the name of the company with whom the consignment is insured. Applications to export goods, for which export licences are required, to destinations outside the British Empire, must provide similar information. Such information is not required in respect of any consignments to destinations within the British Empire.

During the quarter ended 31 March 1941 the Department assumed liability up to a maximum of £15,862,765 in respect of contracts, policies and guarantees amounting to £33,047,100.

MACHINERY, PLANT AND APPLIANCES (CONTROL) (No. 2) ORDER, 1941

Under the Machinery, Plant and Appliances (Control) (No. 2) Order, 1941 (S.R. & O. 1941, No. 516, price 1d.) which came into force to-day, the Machinery and Plant (Control) Order, 1940,* is amended to lay down that the provisions of Article 1 of that Order shall not apply to any manufacturer in respect of plant and machinery supplied by him (other than plant and machinery acquired by him from another manufacturer) on which he has not carried out any process of manufacture.

The Machinery and Plant (Control) Order, 1940, has previously been amended by the Machinery and Plant (Control) (No. 2) Order, 1940 (see the "Board of Trade Journal" of 1 August 1940, 0age 75), and the Machinery Plant and Appliances (Control) Order, 1940 (see the "Board of Trade Journal" of 2 January 1941, page 2), and the effect of the new Order is thus to permit the supply without licence of machinery, plant and appliances by "manufacturers" (who include reconditioners) provided that they carry out no act of "manufacture" thereon and that they have not acquired it from another "manufacturer."

Application forms for licences to acquire machinery, plant and appliances falling within the Schedules to the Orders may be obtained from the Industrial Supplies Department (Machinery Licences Division), Board of Trade, 1-6 Tavistock Square, London, W.C.1.

MACHINERY AND PLANT (CONTROL) ORDER, 1940 *

LICENCE FOR THE TEMPORARY SUPPLY OF REFRIGERATING MACHINERY AND PLANT

A licence has been issued whereby Automatic Electrical Refrigerators, Ltd., may supply service equipment to any person carrying on a business in which refrigerating machinery or plant is used, during such time as refrigerating machinery or plant belonging to that person is being repaired, reconditioned or replaced. Accordingly, individual licences for the above Company to supply such equipment in these circumstances will not be required.

A licence has also been issued whereby J. E. Hall, Ltd., Dartford Ironworks, Kent, may supply service equipment to any person carrying on a business in which refrigerating machinery or plant is used, during such time as refrigerating machinery or plant belonging to that person is being repaired, reconditioned or replaced. Accordingly, individual licences for the above Company to supply such equipment in these circumstances will not be required.

* See the "Board of Trade Journal" of 6 June 1940 (page 542).

CARDOX AND HYDROX CARTRIDGES

The Secretary for Mines announces that the rules regulating the use of Cardox and Hydrox Cartridges in Mines under the Coal Mines Acts have been reviewed in the light of the recommendations made by the Royal Commission on Safety in Coal Mines, at page 325 of their report, and that the Board of Trade have made an Order under the Coal Mines Act, 1911, entitled the Coal Mines (Cardox and Hydrox) Order, 1941 (S.R. & O. 1941, No. 513, price 1d.), which simplifies and amends the rules in force under previous Orders relating to these appliances.

BUILDING LICENCES

The Ministry of Works and Buildings desires to call attention to an important amendment (S.R. & O. 1941, No. 437, price 2d.) in Regulation 56A of the Defence (General) Regulations which concerns licences for building operations. The amendment came into force on 14 April 1941, and the chief changes may be summarised as follows :—

(a) On and after 14 April 1941 no building operation estimated to cost more than £100 may be commenced except by licence issued by the Ministry of Works and Buildings or, in the case of local authorities and public utilities, by an authorisation issued by the appropriate Government Department. Under the old regulations works under £500 were exempt from licence or authorisation; under the new Order only works under £100 are exempt. Works carried out by, or at the expense (in whole or in part) of a Government Department, or by a local authority under the Civil Defence Acts, 1937 and 1939, are, however, excluded from the operation of the Order, since they are adequately controlled through the Departments concerned.

(b) In the event of more than one building operation to the same building being undertaken within any period of 12 months, a licence or authorisation is obligatory where the aggregate cost of these operations will exceed £100. In estimating the amount to be spent on the operation, the cost of decorative work and also of works to provide water, light, heating and other services, must be included.

RAILWAYS (DEMURRAGE CHARGES) (AMENDMENT) ORDER, 1941

The Minister of Transport, on 2 April 1941, made the Railways (Demurrage Charges) (Amendment) Order, 1941 (S.R. & O. 1941, No. 487, price 1d.), to provide for further exemption from the application of the charges and free periods specified respectively in Part I and Part II of the Schedule to the Railways (Demurrage Charges) Order, 1939 (S.R. & O. 1939, No. 1822, price 2d.).

The effect of the new Order is that the charges and free periods in question shall not apply to wagons used for the conveyance of :—

(a) Ironstone, iron ore, limestone, lime, basic material, dolomite, pyrites, cinders, sinter or scale, to blast furnaces, coke ovens or steel works, or

(b) Iron borings, lime, pyrites, waste soda, or limestone to any chemical works, where in either case the operation of such wagons is regulated under a system of control agreed between the Railway Companies and the owners of the particular works concerned in the traffic or traffics conveyed or to be conveyed to such works and approved by the Minister of Transport.

TEXTILE DESIGN SCHOLARSHIPS

The Royal Society of Arts is offering for competition by art students and designers between the ages of 16 and 21, two scholarships of £100 each to provide for more advanced study in design for the Furnishing Textiles and Dress Textiles industries. The closing date for entries is 19 May, and full particulars may be obtained from the Secretary, Royal Society of Arts, John Adam Street, Adelphi, London, W.C.2.

LIMITATION OF SUPPLIES OF FELT

Manufacturers, wholesalers and mercantile agents supplying felt made from rabbits' fur, sheep's wool or other wool fibres are reminded that they must apply for registration under the Limitation of Supplies (Woven Textiles) (No. 7) Order, 1941 (see the "Board of Trade Journal" of 20 March 1941, page 201), forthwith unless their names are already on the woven textiles register.

The attention of hat manufacturers who produce their own felt is drawn to the fact that under the order any felt which they use themselves in the manufacture of hats counts as part of their quota. The total quantity so used, together with any quantities supplied to unregistered persons during the restriction period, 15 March 1941 to 30 September 1941, must be limited to 30 per cent. of the quantities so used and supplied in the standard period 1 April 1939 to 30 September 1939.

WOOLLEN AND WORSTED MANUFACTURERS

LIMITATION OF SUPPLIES (WOVEN TEXTILES) (NO. 7) ORDER, 1941*

In order to assist those woollen and worsted manufacturers whose trade in the first six months standard period ended 30 September 1939 was substantially lower than in the second six months standard period ended 31 March 1940, the Board of Trade are prepared to grant licences to the manufacturers so as to enable them to maintain a steady flow of production. In general, the arrangement will permit supplies to be made up to 15 per cent. of the twelve months ended 31 March instead of 30 per cent, of the first standard period.

* See the "Board of Trade Journal" of 20 March 1941 (page 201).

MINISTRY OF FOOD ORDERS

No. 431, The Use of Milk (Restriction) Order, 1941, dated 27 March 1941, prohibits the use of milk, milk powder or condensed milk in the manufacture, by way of trade or business, of biscuits, bread, buns, pastries, rolls, scones and other similar articles; ice cream, soft and curd cheese, sweetmeats (including sugar confectionery and chocolate), and synthetic cream.

declined by 57 per cent. in gold value, and exports to Europe fell by 37 per cent., while trade with the Americas increased in gold value by 42 per cent. on import account and by 8 per cent. on export account. The outstanding change in Brazil's trade with individual countries was an expansion of 49 per cent. in the gold value of imports from the United States, and an increase of 55 per cent. in exports to Great Britain, the latter having been due to larger shipments of meat, cotton, minerals, etc., at higher prices.—Bank of London and South America, Limited, London.

GUATEMALA

FOREIGN TRADE IN 1940

Imports into Guatemala during the year under review were valued at 12,667,000 quetzales, while exports totalled 12,039,000 quetzales. The latter figure includes export duties. The corresponding figures for 1939 were:—Imports, 15,296,000 quetzales and exports 16,985,000 quetzales. It will be seen that in 1939 there was a favourable trade balance amounting to 1,689,000 quetzales whereas in 1940 the balance was adverse to the extent of 626,000 quetzales.—Bank of London and South America, Ltd., London.

FACILITIES OFFERED TO UNITED KINGDOM TRADERS

The Department of Overseas Trade has at its command an extensive overseas Intelligence system, which comprises the Commercial Diplomatic and Consular Services in foreign countries and Trade Commissioners and Imperial or other Trade Correspondents in the Empire.

From this Intelligence Service information on all subjects of commercial interest is received at the Department, where it is collated and classified in a form convenient for reference, and is available to any firm trading in goods manufactured in the United Kingdom upon personal or written application to the Department at New Public Offices, 99-103, St. Michael's Road, Bournemouth.

The information at the disposal of the Department is of a widely varied nature, and includes such matters as the following :—Sources of supply, prices, etc., of trade products ; Foreign and Colonial contracts open to tender ; openings for United Kingdom trade abroad ; general conditions prevailing in Overseas markets ; demand for particular articles abroad ; nature and extent of foreign competition and suggestions for meeting it ; methods of distribution and marketing ; credit conditions ; terms of payment, etc., abroad ; Foreign and Colonial importers of United Kingdom goods ; firms or individuals considered suitable to act as representatives or agents for United Kingdom firms ; Foreign and Colonial Tariff and Customs Regulations, statistics of Imports or Exports ; forms of Certificates of Origin ; regulations concerning commercial travellers ; Consular Invoices ; shipping and transport, etc.

Members of United Kingdom firms visiting Overseas markets are recommended to call on the Department's resident officers and to see that their own local representatives keep in touch with these officers. It is to the advantage of all United Kingdom firms having Overseas agents to notify the respective Overseas officers of the Department of the names and addresses of such agents and to keep them informed of any changes that may take place in their Overseas representation.

METHODS OF ADDRESSING ENQUIRIES

The Department of Overseas Trade invites applications for assistance from manufacturers and exporters of United Kingdom goods who are desirous of initiating or extending Overseas connections, but it is desired to call attention to one or two points, the observance of which will facilitate the supply of information required.

When the enquiry concerns an Overseas market the applicant may, of course, apply direct to H.M. Trade Commissioners in the British Empire, and to the Commercial Diplomatic or Consular Officers in Foreign Countries, but it is generally advisable to communicate in the first instance with the Department of Overseas Trade, 99-103, St. Michael's Road, Bournemouth, as the information required is frequently already in the possession of the Department, and the delay involved in communicating with the officers abroad can therefore often be avoided. Should the information required not be available, the Department will make all necessary enquiries abroad on the applicant's behalf.

When making applications for information enquiries should clearly specify :—

(1) The countries concerning which information is required ;
(2) The precise kinds of goods ; and
(3) The particular point in regard to which the information is sought.

By following this method of making their enquiries as specific as possible applicants will materially assist the Department in its endeavour to supply the precise information required.

EXPORT CREDIT GUARANTEES

Provision for Protection Against Loss

Under the provisions of the Export Guarantees Act, 1939, the Export Credits Guarantee Department is authorised to give guarantees to United Kingdom exporters for the purpose of encouraging export trade. War conditions have greatly increased the risks to which exporters are exposed in oversea trading, and the Department has put into operation special facilities giving them protection against these risks on exceptionally favourable terms.

Short-Term Credits.

The Department's Comprehensive Guarantee, which covers the whole of an exporter's business for a forward period of twelve months, ensures that in the event of his customers' insolvency he will receive 75 per cent. (by special arrangement 85 per cent.) of the debt guaranteed plus a proportionate share of all recoveries from the debtor's estate.

For a supplementary premium an exporter can obtain an Addendum to the Comprehensive Guarantee protecting him not only against loss or delay due to the operation of exchange restrictions abroad, but also against the special risk of transfer arising from war conditions abroad.

In order to meet pre-shipment risks the Department offers, either as a supplement to the Comprehensive Guarantee or as a separate policy, cover against the risk of loss through the inability of the exporter to ship owing to insolvency of the buyer or the imposition of import regulations, or war, or the like catastrophe.

All the above risks may be covered by one policy, the "All-in War Emergency" guarantee, which also secures the exporter against loss due to deviation or frustration of shipments.

The Department also issues a policy which enables exporters to quote firm c.i.f. prices some months ahead of shipment. Under this guarantee exporters in respect of any c.i.f. transaction are covered against any rise in marine insurance, Government war risk insurance and freight rates occurring within a period of six months.

Credits to Purchasers of Plant, Machinery, etc.

Firms in the engineering and allied industries may be asked to give medium-term credits of from one to three years to purchasers of plant, machinery, etc., whether Governments, municipalities or private traders. Guarantees in respect of such contracts, covering solvency in the case of private buyers and the risk of default in the case of Governments, municipalities and other public bodies, as well as, in some instances, pre-shipment and transfer risks, have been a well-used facility in the past. The war has placed obvious restrictions on this type of business ; but while it may not be possible to extend facilities in many cases, the Department will gladly consider and if possible advise on negotiations in this field.

The strictest secrecy is observed in all correspondence and transactions.

Exporters are invited to apply for further particulars to the Headquarters of the Export Credits Guarantees Department at 9, Clement's Lane, Lombard Street, London, E.C.4, or to any of the branch offices :—

The South American Handbook, 1941. Published by Trade and Travel Publications, Ltd., 14, Leadenhall Street, London, E.C. Price 3s. 6d. net. Post free 4s.

The Editor, in his preface to the 1941 edition of the "South American Handbook" which has just appeared, remarks that no better proof is needed of the supremacy of our shipping over the German submarine than the punctual appearance of this annual. Between three and four thousand corrections have been made to bring the book up-to-date and the whole of the data necessary for making these changes was carried in British borroms from the Latin-American republics and the United States of America.

That the book appears at all is, therefore, a tribute to the Merchant Marine and the Royal Navy ; that it should be more completely up-to-date than any previous edition is due to the fresh eagerness of correspondents and Government departments both in Latin-America and in the United States to help this country, even though it should be only in this humble way.

The handbook should be of greater interest than ever to the trader to-day now that the Latin-American market is hermetically sealed to Germany and the German-occupied territories, and is more open to British and American initiative than it has ever been before. The business man will, indeed, find the "South American Handbook" an immense repository of information essential for him in carrying on business with the 22 republics of Latin-America.
